Ask for Emergency Helicopter Flight

Mt. Everest Team Suffers Frostbite

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—The American Everest expedition asked today for an emergency helicopter flight to take Barry C. Bishop and William F. Unsoeld to a hospital in Katmandu. They got to the top of Everest Wednesday, Bishop by the south col, Unsoeld by the west ridge.

A radio report from the base camp said they were frostbitten on all their toes during a night spent without shelter 28,000 feet up on the mountain following the summit climb.

Thomas F. Hornbein and Luther G. Jerstad escaped serious frostbite so far as he knows, expedition leader Norman R. Dyhrenfurth radioed.

Unsoeld, from Corvallis, Ore., made his climb with Hornbein, from San Diego, Calif. Bishop, from Washington, D.C., and an employee of the National Geographic Society, who sponsored the expedition, climbed with Jerstad, from Eugene, Ore. The world's highest mountain never before had been conquered from the west ridge, the route Unsoeld and Hornbein took.

Men In Military Hit Reorganization By Defense Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's vast revamping of the military establishment—its administrative organization, its chain of command, its multi-billion-dollar operation—is all but complete.

Reorganization of the Navy remains to be completed. Some final moving around of offices, furniture and people in other agencies to carry out consolidation plans will continue for some months more, although the broad changes have been made.

The revamping has been done without asking Congress for new legislation, with McNamara acting under provisions of the unification law and its revisions.

Criticism by Congress members generally has been restrained.

But within the military, there have been stated objections by some officers, sharp private disagreement by others. One of the high commanders is on the way out, with McNamara opposing reappointment of Adm. George W. Anderson to a second term as chief of naval operations. And Gen. Curtis E. LeMay was given only half of a usual two-year tenure for his reappointment as Air Force chief of staff.

A deep and pervasive silence has settled among generals and admirals.

Will this end disputes within the Pentagon?

President Kennedy does not think so.

"I am sure there'll continue to be disputes," he says.

Income Tax Plan Before Ohio Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bill to authorize local income taxes for education is due for the full treatment in this session of the 105th General Assembly.

The bill originally sponsored by House Speaker Roger Cloud is due to emerge next Tuesday from a House Education subcommittee where it has been under study for many weeks.

Cloud originally envisioned the measure as one which could permit school districts which wanted better-than-average programs of study to finance them through the income-tax procedure.

The subcommittee, in its lengthy study, has changed all that. The bill which will be reported back to the full committee would limit such an income tax to 1 per cent for five years for community colleges, joint vocational schools, technical institutes and university branches. Not a dime could be used for public schools.

The House passed, 110-9, and sent to the Senate Thursday a bill to toughen driving rights of minor between the ages of 16 and 21. Under present law, youngsters between 16 and 18 may obtain junior probationary licenses, with permanent licenses becoming effective at age 18. The House proposal would continue the junior probationary licenses until the driver reaches 21.

Junior probationary licenses are subject to revocation or suspension after three moving violations such as speeding. Under present law, drivers above 18 are subject to the "12-points-and-out" law.

The House defeated a bill by Rep. Clara Weisenborn, R-Montgomery, to base the state subsidy to local health districts on a percentage of the local money spent.

Equal Pay Bill Passed By House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has approved the principle that women should be paid the same wages as men for equal work and it is close to becoming the law of the land.

It has taken 16 years of plugging to get this recognition of "simple justice," Asst. Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson commented after House passage of the equal pay bill Wednesday by voice vote.

The Senate passed a similar bill a week ago. Now, if both chambers can iron out minor differences in the measures sponsored by Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., and Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., it will be headed for President Kennedy's signature. And Kennedy is for it.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz called passage "a major step in the long struggle toward providing full equality for women in our society."

The measure will become effective a year after the President signs the bill. In cases where collective bargaining agreements are involved, it may be two years.

The bill would prohibit discrimination because of sex in the payment of wages to some 27 million workers now covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act which includes minimum wage laws.

The Wage and Hour Division of the Labor Department would enforce the equal pay provisions.

Large manufacturers, wholesalers and retail concerns doing more than $250,000-a-year business are mainly involved.

Agriculture, hotel, motel, restaurant and laundry workers are excluded along with professional, managerial and administrative personnel.

On the House floor, the measure was championed by both men and women.

Mrs. Green, who has championed such a bill since she came to Congress nine years ago, told the House "vested interests" oppose the measure. Progress has been made on Jim Crow laws, she said, "and it's high time to work against Jane Crow legislation."

There were moments of humor in the sometimes technical debate. When Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., rose to oppose this "legislation for a minority," the dean of congressmen, Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, informed him:

"It is some time since women of this country have been in the minority."

Doesn't Seem Fair

JFK Has Birthday Party But Democrats Get the Presents

NEW YORK (AL)—A birthday salute wafted kind words and soft music in President Kennedy's direction—and cold cash into Democratic coffers Thursday night.

More than 600 New Yorkers marked Kennedy's 46th birthday, which comes next Wednesday, at a star-studded dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Each of the diners had contributed at least $1,000 to the Democratic party this year — yet the White House insisted it was a bipartisan gathering. This little joke seemed to be part of the birthday fun.

After the dinner and a rousing entertainment, Kennedy drove to the uptown apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. T. Smith, old friends who entertained him until nearly 2 a.m.

Then Kennedy returned to his own quarters at the Carlyle Hotel to rest before flying back to Washington. He will be guest tonight at the annual White House press dinner.

Just across the Waldorf-Astoria lobby from the Kennedy party, the American Iron and Steel Institute simultaneously presented an award to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Kennedy didn't encounter Eisenhower during his stay at the hotel. But he couldn't resist the temptation to joke about their proximity.

"Just down the hall," he said, "the steel industry honored my distinguished predecessor, President Eisenhower, with an award as the person who has done most for the steel industry this year. Last year, I won the award."

This reference to Kennedy's 1962 battle to stave off a steel price increase brought as much laughter as the earlier efforts of such professional comics as Bob Newhart and Jimmy Durante.

Before going to his party, Kennedy paid a 10-minute courtesy call on former President Herbert Hoover, who lives in the hotel, the presidential visit interrupted Hoover's dinner.

Kennedy did not run into three other luminaries at the hotel — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who is a permanent resident, and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who checked in Thursday.

The Kennedy party, featuring top entertainers, was a fun affair from start to finish.

Even Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson succumbed to the light-hearted spirit of the occasion.

Johnson, 54, said he had been "asked to speak on behalf of my fellow youths in this administration."

Thorpe Asks Early Action On Route 62

State Rep. Jim Thorpe of Stark County submitted a resolution in the Ohio House Thursday, requesting the state director of highways to reconsider previous programming of the relocation of U. S. Route 62 from State Route 44 to Alliance in an effort to advance the projected date of the work.

Under present plans, the extension of the two-lane road is scheduled for 1966-67.

Thorpe pointed out that the highway is the primary connecting link between the highly-industrialized metropolitan areas of Canton, Massillon, Alliance, Salem and Youngstown and also leads to the Ohio turnpike.

"Everyone has been under the impression that construction of Route 62 to Alliance will begin in 1964, but now we find it is being postponed until 1966," he said.

"I doubt very much that it will begin then and by that time it probably will be postponed again. Considering the traffic in the area, the amount of gasoline tax paid by district motorists and the dangerous condition of the present route, I am requesting the director of highways to consider immediate action to see that construction is begun."

Thorpe pointed out that according to the state's recently-announced five-year plan, Mahoning County will get two and one-half times as much high construction as Stark County and yet it is smaller than Stark.

Solak, who said he was resigning for "personal reasons," has been a teacher at United for 10 years. A resident of Salineville, he joined the United faculty as junior high math teacher in 1951 after being head basketball coach at Wellsville from 1947 to '51.

Solak's wife, Marilyn, who was Columbiana County high school supervisor five years before joining the Youngstown school system a year ago as English supervisor, will receive her doctorate from Western Reserve University June 12. Solak expects to get his PhD sometime next year.

He said today his plans for locating in another school are indefinite.

Mercury Drops To Low Of 23

Thursday night's sub-freezing temperatures and heavy frost may have resulted in considerable damage to area crops, Edwin Copeland, U.S. cooperative weather observer in Columbiana County said today.

Copeland said the frost probably caused extensive harm to strawberry plants and the hay crop.

Wheat growths may have suffered in sections where they are sufficiently advanced.

Early planted garden produce, too, likely felt the effects of the frost and freezing temperature which dropped to an official low of 23 in the early hours today, Copeland said.

The weather observer declared that killing frosts have occurred in this area as late as June 8, although "very rarely."

Perhaps the lowest unofficial temperature reading recorded in this area was the 13 degrees registered at the Salem sewage disposal plant at 6 a.m. today.

The mercury dropped into and below the 30's in many sections of the state. Youngstown reported 25, Toledo, 32, Cleveland 33, Zanesville 34 and Columbus and Cincinnati 39.

Mostly sunny weather and warmer temperatures were forecast for Ohio today.

Tonight will be mostly fair and not quite so cool, followed by partly cloudy and a little warmer Saturday and Sunday.

The Ohio five-day weather forecast says temperatures in the northern part of the state will average near to a little above normal. The normal high is 73-74 and the normal low 51-54.

Rainfall will average two-tenths to four-tenths of an inch as scattered showers and possibly a few thundershowers about Sunday and again in midweek.

7 Take Tough Course In Spare Time

Salem High Pupils Tackling Calculus

By GLENN SCHOTTEN

When seven Salem Senior High School graduating seniors enter college next fall, they should be a step ahead of many of their classmates.

They are the first products of an experiment in higher mathematics, a phase of the enrichment program in Salem schools. Rudolph Maroscher, an instructor in the Salem School of Technology, has been teaching the seven some of the beginning aspects of calculus to give them a foretaste of what's to come in college.

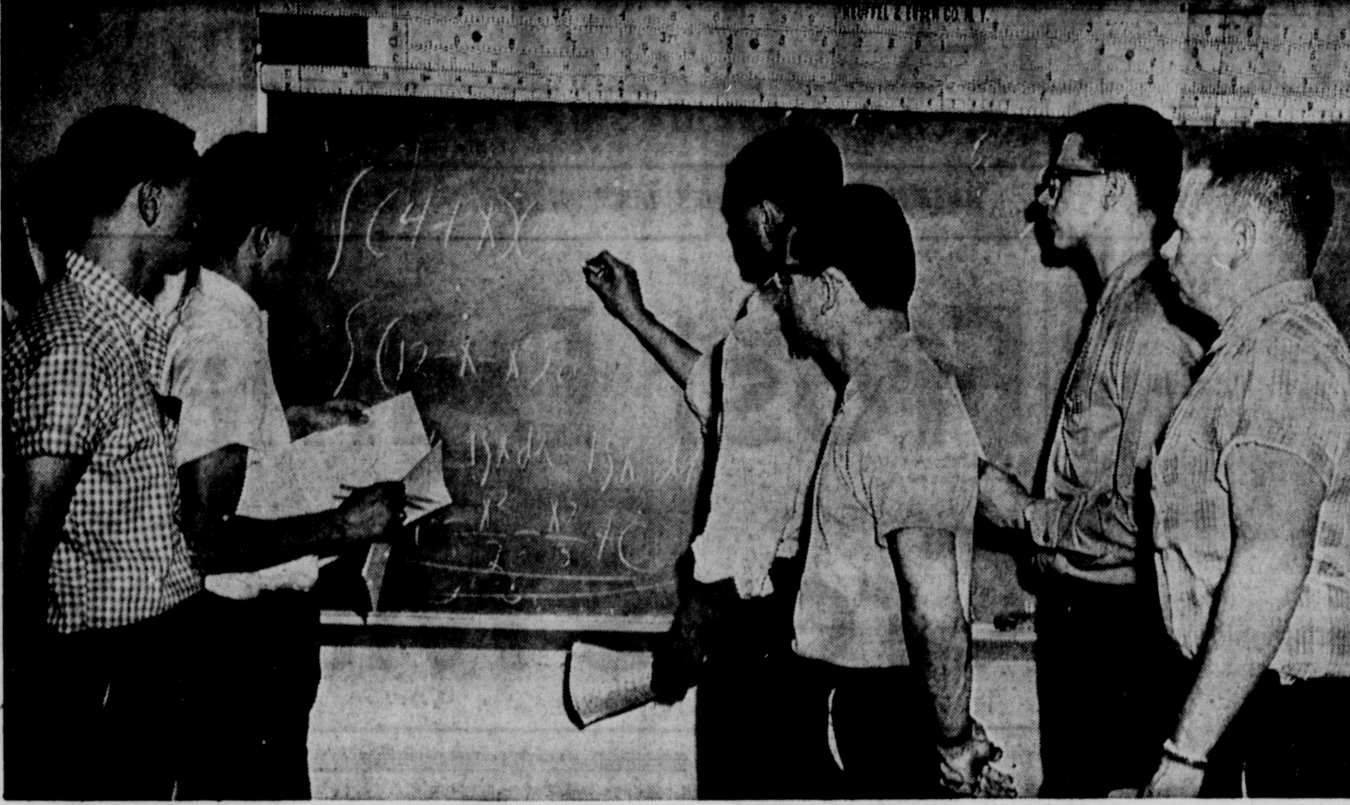

Enrolled in the voluntary, after-school course are Fred Naragon, Clyde Miller, James Ward, Bob Eagleton, Jim Edling and Robert Riehl.

They come in twice a week for the 45-minute sessions to learn about integration and differentiation in the advanced work course, a follow-up to their completed studies in algebra, advanced algebra, plain geometry, solid geometry and trigonometry.

Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith said the experiment was designed for youth who are going on to engineering and other schools where math is important.

Maroscher, who knows how math can be put to practical use, was chosen to teach the course to give the students some practical insight into the principles of higher math.

"The course gives the boys an opportunity to 'get their feet wet,'" Smith reports.

HIGH-POWERED MATH — After their classmates have gone home, these Salem High seniors have been voluntarily poring over problems of advanced mathematics to prepare themselves for

Commissioners Issue Reply to Infirmary Query

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners today made public answers to a number of questions regarding the Columbiana County Home contained in a letter to the commissioners Thursday from the Columbiana county Democratic Committee.

President Walter Hunston of East Palestine said the commissioners are holding open house at the home June 2 from 2 to 9 p.m. and they will be present to answer any other questions relative to the home. Persons are welcome to visit the home at any time, Hunston said.

He said infirmary improvements so far have consisted of repainting and repairing the lower floor at the hospital. The commissioners are in the process of securing bids for a new sewage disposal plant.

Hunston said the home has never functioned without a matron. He said when Mrs. Marvel Phillips resigned, she had four weeks' vacation time due her. Supt. Russell Phillips appointed Mrs. Martha Jewel as acting matron and then elevated her to Matron May 1.

Hunston reported there are 83 residents at the home. Last year's average was 82. Twenty-four employees are on the payroll.

The 1961 state report shows that the cost of each resident per day at the home was $3.41 compared with the average throughout the state of $4.87. The 1962 infirmary resident cost remained the same, but no report covering the entire state is available to make a comparison.

Records of the costs at the County Home are in the auditor Kenneth Bell's office, Hunston said, adding he was sure the auditor would be happy to show them to anyone.

Hunston said the home had a $8,972 cash income last year. Approximately $25,000 worth of produce, meat, milk, etc. for home consumption was produced on the farm.

The commissioner said the farm and county home costs are not broken down separately, but that they could be figured out if anyone wishes to do so. The state does not require any county to make a breakdown of this type on its yearly reports, he said.

U.S. Flag Quiz

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the most recognizable and least known things in our life today is the American flag.

We get an automatic lift of heart whenever we see that banner in the sky take each passing breeze in grandeur. Our inborn patriotism sizes us by the throat, particularly if a band is passing by with drums beating and bugles blowing.

But who can sit down and describe it?

Very few of us. Let us consider a few questions about it.

If you ask the average American what are the colors in his flag, he will immediately reply, "red, white and blue"—and look at you as if you were impertinent.

If you ask him what are the "red and white."

If you ask him how many stripes there are, after a dutiful search of his grammar school his colors of the stripes, he will reply to memories, he'll reply, "thirteen-one for each of the original colonies."

So far, so good. Now ask him, "how many red stripes are there, and how many white stripes?"

After a long and doubtful mental consultation with himself, he may—eight out of ten—come up with the correct answer—seven red stripes, six white stripes.

Well, you say, if the stripes are red and white, what color are the stars? The chances are that he will answer, without thinking, that the stars are blue.

If you point out that the stars are actually white against a blue background, he will begin to get mad.

Then, if you inquire how many stars there are in the flag, he'll begin to think you are making a fool of him. But his answer may be 48, 49 or 50.

If he happens to give the correct answer, which at the moment happens to be 50, you will hardly fluster him by asking him if he can draw the proper positions of the stars in the flag.

"Why, that's simple," he'll say. If you tell him he's wrong and that there are nine rows of stars in his flag, he'll regard you as a liar and after struggling with pencil against paper tell you it's mathematically impossible.

Then you show him that it isn't. The current American flag does have nine rows of stars. Five rows have six stars. That makes 30. Between them alternately are four rows of five stars. That makes 20. Add 30 and 20 and you have our 50 states.

Well, in this world I guess we take many familiar things for granted. And I suppose it isn't as important to be able to draw the American flag as it is to feel its starry fingers wave in certainty above us all.

History Today

By The Associated Press
On this date:

In 1844, Samuel F. B. Morse made history when he transmitted a message by wire between Washington and Baltimore. From the Supreme Court room in Baltimore, Morse tapped out those historic words: "What hath God Wrought!"

In 1826, Peter Minuit paid the Indians $24 for Manhattan Island, now part of New York City.

In 1830, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad opened its first passenger line.

In 1883, the Brooklyn Bridge was opened.

In 1941, the German battleship Bismarck sank the British battle cruiser Hood during World War II.

In 1946, President Truman threatened to call out the Army if striking railroad workers refused to return to their jobs.

Ten years ago: Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder Ralph Kiner hit the 300th home run of his major league career in a game with the New York Giants.

Five years ago: Tunisia ordered total mobilization as new clashes occurred between French and Tunisian troops.

One year ago: U.S. astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter completed a three-orbit trip around the earth in space capsule.

returned to normal you are now getting what is called a maintenance dose of the vitamin. Your doctor will determine how much you need by making periodic checks of your blood count.

Since this disease can be controlled but not cured, you should continue under your doctor's care indefinitely, since the complications of pernicious anemia when inadequately treated may be crippling.

No side effects have been reported from the use of vitamin B-12. Your rash must be due to something else.

Q—What is pneumosclerosis? What causes it? Is there any cure?

A—From its formation, the word would mean hardening of the lungs. But I am unable to find it in any medical dictionary or textbook. I can only assume, therefore, that you are referring to pneumosilicosis, caused by inhalation of silica dust over a period of years.

This would indeed cause hardening of the lungs. The condition is found chiefly in persons who work as stonecutters, sandblasters, or in some similar occupations, and who do not wear some form of respirator.

The best treatment is prevention. When the disease has become established as shown by X-ray of the chest, the victim should change his occupation.

There is no cure, and further exposure to the silica dust can only aggravate the condition.

Q—What causes multiple myeloma? What can be done for it?

A—This is a disease of unknown cause, in which tumors form in the bones, especially the ribs, vertebrae, collar bone, and skull. Pain is usually severe.

When the tumor has weakened a bone sufficiently, ordinary weight-bearing may cause fracture. As the disease progresses, the victim develops anemia.

X-ray and urethane may relieve the pain and make life more comfortable, but they cannot be said to cure the disease.

Franklin Trustees Discuss Road Work

Several road improvements were reported when the Franklin Township trustees met Monday at the Township House, with Paul Dowdell in charge.

Dowdell reported that the brush had been removed and the banks sloped along the William McKarns farm on Township Rd. 730. Township Rd. 845 west of St. John's Church and County Line Rd. are being prepared for the first of two applications of calcium chloride.

Oil will be applied in front of the homes on the township dirt and slag roads as soon as weather permits. Other road work for the summer was discussed.

Bills totaling $979 were paid. Next meeting will be June 3.

Salute to Our Jaycees

Tomorrow night marks a milestone in the life of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce. It will be the civic organization's silver anniversary.

Twenty-five years have passed since a small group of interested young men met one evening at the parlor of the Memorial Building to see if they could form a club that would help increase their own bond of fellowship and contribute to the community through deeds of public service.

Back in 1938 Salem had its Rotary and Kiwanis clubs but few young men belonged to those organizations. The man who had yet to carve his niche in the local "hall of fame" had no outlet, actually, for mixing socially and contributing muscle on community projects. Some leaders of that day looked disdainfully on a new group wanting to organize, apparently suspicious of their motives. However, other businessmen lent encouragement to the Jaycees-to-be and in May of 1938 the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce was chartered by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Since that time the activities and accomplishments of the Salem Junior Chamber are legion. Many a local project for community betterment would have failed, or fallen short, had it not been for the enthusiasm and dedication of these men of the 21-to-35 age bracket.

Many of the charter members today hold down jobs of real responsibility; some are in other cities and several have died before their time but not before doing their bit.

The Jaycee Creed starts out with the declaration that "faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life" ... and it concludes with a dedication that "service to humanity is the best work in life."

How could they fail?

We not only admire the Salem Junior Chamber for its civic contribution down through the years but offer the public's best wishes for a Happy 25th Anniversary!

College Bulge Will Need Buildings

The penny-a-pack cigarette tax which Ohioans voted on themselves back in 1955 came so easy that a group of citizens wants to continue it to raise money for new buildings at state universities during the next four years.

Easy money sometimes is a dangerous thing in government. But few complain with the manner in which the extra penny of cigarette tax revenue is being spent. It was voted in November 1955 by a 56 per cent margin in the form of a state constitutional amendment authorizing $10 million in bonds. Half of the money was earmarked for state hospitals and prisons, the rest for state university buildings.

some $80 million more than had been anticipated by this date and the bonds issued then can be expected to be retired ahead of schedule.

There is no time to lose, Mr. Patton emphasizes. By 1967 — just four years from now — statistics show the number of 18-year-olds will be up 50 per cent over this year and enrollment in all of Ohio's colleges can be expected to be up a corresponding 50 per cent.

The private colleges already are swamped. They now must refuse admission to many more high school graduates than they can accept because they do not have space or faculty. The lion's share of the bulge in college enrollment is bound to be thrust upon the six state universities.

MR. PATTON points out that any building program started now will take four years or so before it can be turned into finished bricks and mortar, and Ohio must act now if it is to be ready for the 1967 freshman crop.

Already, the state colleges are finding themselves increasingly hard put to meet the steady annual bulge in enrollment. This problem, Mr. Patton emphasizes, is coupled with the greater role Ohio's universities and university-based research must play in keeping Ohio's economy vital and growing.

Mr. Patton has on his large committee dozens of the leading citizens in their communities who have given the program their blessing. It has been endorsed, too, by agricultural, industrial, business and education groups, and more undoubtedly will join in the campaign.

Next step is for the Ohio General Assembly to place the bond issue proposal on the November ballot. Then it will be up to Ohioans to approve it.

We believe they can be convinced they should.

Always On the Job

Salvation Army Week is being observed nationally but in Salem almost every week could be so designated for our active religious and humanitarian organization.

The Salvation Army lassies do a wonderful work in our community, helping hundreds in need, whether it be material wants or spiritual guidance, and an active citizens board of directors aids whenever necessary.

The community doffs its official hat to the Army for its many unheralded acts of kindness day in and day out.

Kaiser's Confidence

The Kaiser Company's announcement that it will increase the scope of its operations at its refractories division plant in Columbiana is welcome news for the entire northern county district.

The clean, modern factory at the western edge of "the biggest little town in Ohio" was built in 1955 and dedicated a year later and has been expanded since. It employs nearly 200, some from Salem, and the firm's decision to bring its Eastern Division sales and technical force from Pittsburgh will mean increased employment and the construction of a new office wing.

This is further evidence of the company's confidence in the district, as well as the future.

Water Buffaloes Etc. By Truman Twill

It's invigorating to be back in girl-watching weather.

There were days, weeks and months last winter when a girl-watcher was too busy with survival to waste one of those long, searching looks even if the subject of the scrutiny had been willing to look back.

This brings up a point about girl-watching in which confused minds are not clear. They think of it as resembling rabbit-hunting, in which the object is to bag the game.

This is not necessarily true about girl-watching. A time comes in a man's life when sighting game is more important than one more demonstration of marksmanship.

Until this time comes, a man is not really a girl-watcher. He is still objective in his point of view. He is still shooting rabbits.

It is the difference between taking a picture of a water buffalo on a safari and killing the beast so its head can be displayed as a trophy. Is not the photographer the more sophisticated?

It takes a cool cat to go to so much trouble to admire the movements of a water buffalo.

It's nice to have the climate on the side of us girl-watchers again. It's a shock to find out that the girls we watch do not always wear galoshes on their feet and babushkas on their heads—to be reminded by reality that the female of the species does not stop with the A-line.

Rediscovery has been made the more detectable by high winds and misdemeanors. The disappearance of street cars robbed girl-watching of some of its one-time zest, but that first high step has been made up for by the low-bridge automobile.

There is no lack of opportunity to inspect delicacy of line and smoothness of coordination in all its delightful perfection. If it became necessary to protect this harmless sport from predators, attention should be directed to the possibility the thing might be overdone.

Girl-watchers who carry on their sport at bathing beaches reported last summer that too much was being made of a good thing—and that was last summer. This summer, extremists will have subtracted a few more threads from the sum total of what already was inadequate coverage.

The same possibility exists in off-the-beach costumes. Any shopping center reveals more acreage of exposed female flesh than a girl-watcher wants to see.

They can make too much of a good thing; that's the, ahem, size of it.

Some of us admirers of the water buffalo may reach the point where we will see one more and murmur, "Let's see if we can find a three-toed sloth, or a black leopard. After all, Charlie, when you've seen too much of half a dozen water buffalo you've had it."

Our eyes are open, now that girl-watching weather is back. After a long winter layoff, it is taking a while to get cranked up. But we're not fighting it—not us genuine girl-watchers.

We're like bird-watchers. We never give up. Feathers may get in our eyes and we get cricks in our necks, but we'll be at it as long as we can see. Even if we must wear trifocals.

In fact, even if we must wear blinders.

Respect for Constitutional Processes Diminishing

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Illegality is breeding more and more illegality. The biggest question confronting the country today is by what means a respect for law and constitutional processes can be achieved.

The disquieting facts are these:

1. The Supreme Court of the United States asserts the right to amend the Constitution by an order or decision. If the people don't like it, their only redress now apparently is to go through the long process of adopting constitutional amendments that would specifically nullify every decision which is not sanctioned by the written Constitution.
2. The President of the United States orders troops into Alabama in direct violation of the provision of the Constitution which deny him that power in dealing with threatened disorder. Some of the best constitutional lawyers in the country including members of the United States Senate — are pointing to this violation.
3. George Wallace, governor of Alabama, has petitioned the Supreme Court of the United States to order that federal troops not be used in Alabama unless there is formal application by the state for such use, as required by the Constitution.
4. Meanwhile, the Alabama governor announces that he will stand in the doorway and block the admission of two Negro students who have been accepted by the board of trustees of the University of Alabama.

"--And I Understand He Doesn't Belong to the Union"

Labor 'Jungle' Cut Away

By VICTOR RIESEL
This is a success story—a report on what was once an industrial jungle in which some of the nation's biggest companies lost tens of millions of dollars because of featherbedding, work restrictions, brutal waste, muscle and interunion civil wars.

This "jungle" was a section of Southern Illinois, the once infamous "East Side" across the Mississippi River from St. Louis. Big firms ran from it. Others considered setting up multi-million dollar plants and then ducked out. They found that outside of Northern New Jersey it was the highest construction cost area in the nation.

Building contractors simply added anywhere from 15 to 75 per cent to their labor cost estimates when they bid for a construction job on the "East Side."

Now the jungle has been cut away. Plants are returning—including a $40 million installation of the Illinois Power and Light Co., which once had doubted it would ever build another major power plant in this area.

Today there is peace and harmony and good wages and profits—despite an occasional flare-up. Where in 1955 it took five weeks to put up a steel platform, John R. Hundley, Jr., industrial relations director of the Granite City Steel Co., told me recently a similar job was subsequently done in nine days in 1959.

Victor Riesel

THE INDUSTRIAL jungle was toughest and thickest about 1956. I was told of this in nearby Belleville, close on the Scott Air Force Base, a few months back. Then I learned that the Granite City Steel Co., back in '56, approached such industrial neighbors as Dow and Monsanto, both of which have large installations in the area.

They decided to learn whether they were paying more for construction than industries elsewhere in the United States — and if so, why.

Their people began conferring with the officers of 15 national contracting companies and 30 St. Louis area contractors and subcontractors. Building union contracts in the "East Side" were compared with others across the land. They studied national reports of featherbedding and jurisdictional strikes.

They learned that high wages were not the real factors in frightening off expanding firms.

"The real reason construction labor had become so expensive," says Hundley, "was the development of a bewildering variety of contract and noncontract working restrictions and make-work practices."

THE INDUSTRY group did not put the blame solely on the unions — for the industrialists had not stood up.

"Some of the most costly work restrictions in our area," asserts Hundley, "were in good part our own fault. Intent on getting a job finished, we had failed to take a firm stand against wasteful practices when they first developed. We had not supervised construction at our own plants. We had not protested when jobs were over-manned. . . ."

The industrialists decided to go directly to the building trades unions and the employing contractors in the area. The first face-to-face meeting came in '57. At first they were suspicious of each other. But six months and many meetings later, they agreed to sign a 10-point pact slashing featherbedding and banning jurisdictional strikes.

I know of no other area in the United States where contractors and local unions signed such a pact. It has not quite resulted in Utopia — or an ulcer-free zone. But construction labor costs have plummeted, efficiency has improved.

There now is a Council of Contractor Associations for the East Side industrial district. It works constantly on improvement of labor relations.

There is a constant dialogue between both sides.

If this could develop in as tough an area as "the East Side" — and it sure was tough — it can happen anywhere.

"THUS THE PRESIDENT apparently believes that there has been an unlimited and unrestrained delegation of authority to him to call forth federal military forces to supersede and replace local law-enforcement agencies whenever he sees fit—even before there has been a violation of federal law or a defiance of a federal court decree.

"If we accept this belief or doctrine as valid, it simply means the South — reports the defiance of official authority in connection with race problems.

From Englewood, N. J., comes the following:

"The parents of 34 Negro children today defied a board of education order to cease boycott and sit-in protests. They sent the unregistered youngsters to the predominantly white Cleveland school for the 12th consecutive school day.

"School superintendent Dr. Mark R. Sheed sent telegrams to the parents last night directing them to 'cease immediately' the boycott at the 98 per cent Negro Lincoln School and the unauthorized entries at the Cleveland School."

FROM GREENSBORO, N. C., comes the following:

"Almost 700 Negroes jailed for racial demonstrations were released early today. The Negroes, some of them crying, marched out but later claimed they had been tricked into leaving.

"The Negroes, most of them college students, were ordered by the Guilford County sheriff, Clayton Jones to leave a reopened polio hospital where they had been held. The hospital was ringed by police and sheriff's deputies as the Negroes left.

"A few of the male students sat on the floor and had to be carried down the halls by deputies to an ou'er lobby."

6. In a speech in the United States on Tuesday, John Stennis, D-Miss., who is one of the foremost lawyers in Congress, spoke as follows:

"The recent mobilization of the armed might of federal military forces in the vicinity of Birmingham, Ala., raises a constitutional question of grave proportions. In addition, it provides another unhappy example of how the rights and privileges of the states of the Union are gradually being usurped as a result of continued encroachment by the executive branch of the federal government. . . .

"No federal court order was involved.

"There was no violation of a federal statute.

"There was no abandonment of their functions by the local police. To the contrary, local police officers and state troopers were in control and functioning fully and effectively."

that we abandon our historic freedom and liberty under laws prescribed by the people through their elected representatives. We thus open the doors for a future military dictatorship in this country. . . .

"It begs the question, of course, to minimize the importance of the actions with respect to Birmingham by saying that the troops have not been used and may not be used. It's the threat of their use and the principle which is involved which is of importance. None of us should be content to sit idly by in the face of this direct assault upon and threat to historic constitutional principles.

"Whether the troops are actually used in Birmingham or not, we may be very sure that — with the present thus established — they will be ordered into action on some occasion in the future when the executive department should so desire. . . .

"If the president has such unrestricted and dictatorial power as is claimed for him, then no state and no city in the country is safe from the threat of military rule at the whim of a chief executive. Indeed, one must wonder why federal troops were not called into action following the racial disorders and rioting at the (Washington) D.C. stadium last Thanksgiving."

SEN. STENNIS charged Martin Luther King, Jr., and other Negro leaders with deliberately inciting disorder. He said:

"The hard truth of the matter is that Martin Luther King and his co-workers went to Birmingham for the express purpose of stirring up conflict, strife and disorder. King wanted to be put in jail. He and his co-workers took children out of school and marched them into the business district of the city, seeking to have them arrested. In addition to violating local statutes and ordinances, he committed the common-law crime of inciting to riot."

The irony of the situation is that several Republican and Democratic senators favoring integration are at last introducing bills to secure the enactment of laws—covering discrimination in schools, restaurants, employment — which the Supreme Court unconstitutionally has endeavored to write into law by judicial decision.

Questions and Answers

Q—How could a man serve for 10 years as United States president?

A—If a vice president succeeds to the presidency and serves two years or less of the unexpired term, he may still be elected to two terms as president. If he has served more than two years of the unexpired term, he may be elected for only one four-year term.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Don't tell me to see a psychiatrist. My problem is a psychiatrist.

I have been in analysis for almost seven months and have made good progress. I'm able to get out of bed in the morning and go to work, which is more than I could manage a year ago. But—I pay my doctor $25 for what is supposed to be a 45-minute session and he never gives more than 35 minutes.

During those 35 minutes he accepts telephone calls (last week three) and he made one telephone call on his own. He frequently excuses himself to go to the he left and was gone for 12 minutes.

washroom on my time. Last week yesterday while I was free-associating he ate an apple and read the newspaper. I don't think he heard a word I said.

May I hear your opinion on this?—RIGHT OR WRONG?

Dear Right or Wrong: The next time you "free-associate," unload your feelings and let him have it with both barrels. And eat an apple while you're at it.

If the analyst feels you should see someone else he'll tell you. I am not suggesting a change of doctors, however, since you seem to be making progress and this is what really matters.

Hubby Makes Five

Dear Ann: Counting my husband, I have five kids. Don always has helped at home cheerfully and willingly and I thought it was mighty nice of him until I learned what a big deal he was making of it at the office.

One of Don's colleagues in that he should not be doing my work because he is too important a man in the business.

"He should be saving his energy for his career," she said. She also volunteered to give him the life he deserved if I should feel inclined to set him free.

Miss "Goodheart" was transferred out of town last year but they still keep in touch professionally.

This summer my husband gets an expense-paid trip to Europe. He has been promising for five years that if the company ever sent him abroad he would take me along. Well, you guessed it. Now we can't afford it—unless I decide to use the money we have saved for a bigger house.

"Miss Goodheart" will of course be in Europe at the convention—with bells on. I'm dying to go and the decision is mine, but we need a bigger house and it will be another year before he can afford it if I blow the money on the trip. What do you say?—GREEN EYES.

Dear Eyes: Start packing. You've lived in the house this long, so another year won't kill you.

And when you tell your husband of your decision, leave "Miss Goodheart" out of it. No ma, has to go to Europe to see abroad.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Economic Picture for Red Chinese Is Not Very Bright

EDITOR'S NOTE — Refugees from Red China report hopeless poverty behind the Bamboo Curtain but there is another side to the coin. In the last of a special series of articles a British author who just completed a travel agency tour of the country offers a glimpse of Red China's living standards.

By RICHARD P. LISTER

PEKING (AP) — The average Chinese worker earns about 70 yuan a month—$30. At the Wuhan Iron and Steel Company, the lowest wage was $15 a month, for apprentices; the highest, for skilled workers, $50. The manager received just over $100 a month. These were basic wages, to which a production bonus might be added.

It does not sound like much. But what counts, of course, is what the worker can buy with it. If he has an apartment, or part of an apartment, in one of the new blocks that have sprung up in the cities and villages since the revolution, he will pay 2½ to 5 yuan a month for it—not more than $2. What he pays is based on his family income—3 to 7 per cent of it. On top of this he pays a fee for light and water, which averages out at about half a yuan per month, or 25 cents. Repairs are free. Having paid his rent, he has to buy his food, and this will cost him about $5.

He will in most cases be sharing his apartment with another family, but to a man who probably spent his boyhood years sleeping nine or ten to a room in a hotel, this is no particular problem.

He has a bed for his wife and himself, and separate beds for his children; a radio, tables and chairs, and a picture of Chairman Mo Tze-tung on the wall. The furniture is good quality, the rooms clean and bright; there are no carpets. His wife shares the kitchen with someone else, but the food she cooks there is enough for them all; and this is luxury, in a land where "enough", for the majority, has always been a distant dream.

These, it must be remembered, are the showplaces, the best accommodation available to the more fortunate workers. Millions, in the cities, must still live in the crowded old dwellings of yore.

Having paid his rent, and bought his food, the average worker has two-thirds of his wages left, about $20. What can he do with it? Here the picture is a little different. The goods are there—clothes, radios, bicycles, furniture—but the prices are not so very different from those for the cheaper ranges of similar goods in the West. Roughly speaking, he is in the position of a man with the wages of 1933 living in the world of 1963.

He is decently dressed in his blue jacket and trousers, with a shirt—but never a tie—and a roll-necked pullover if it is cool; a blue quilted cotton jacket for cold weather. But these are all the clothes he has and they serve him for feast days, holidays, and work days.

He has a radio, and a bicycle—the streets are full of bicycles—but a camera or a television set is a rare luxury.

He does not even dream of possessing a car.

Before he needs a car, after all, he needs leisure; and Chang is not yet very rich in this commodity. He works eight hours a day, six days a week. A man is given four days off a month, a woman six. They have two weeks' holiday a year, if they are lucky—some have none—and this may be spent in visiting relatives. Their own children may be staying with grandparents, and be seen only on rare occasions. In the spring, one or two days must be spent in visiting the tombs of their ancestors, an annual honor that most Chinese pay to the spirits of the departed.

The idea of medical treatment available to all, ideally for nothing, was a surprise to the Chinese we saw. If a worker has to see a doctor or go to a hospital, the Chinese told us proudly, he gets his treatment free; but his family or dependents have to pay half the cost of their treatment. This can be rough.

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR FOLKS: Here is a little experiment we have run on hard-boiled eggs:

Many people have written in to say: never boil eggs, (that they should be slightly simmered) and never let them stand in the hot water after they have become hard-boiled as this toughens the white part of the egg.

I believe this is true.

Here's why:

We took six eggs. Put three each in two different pans of cold water. We brought these to a boil and after the water came to a rolling boil we turned the fire down so that the eggs would just simmer.

AFTER THE EGGS were finished cooking we took one pan, put it in the sink and turned the cold water faucet on, letting the water run over the eggs for about five minutes. (Eggs could be transferred to a pan of cold water and let stand).

The eggs that had been rapidly boiled and left in the hot water had tough whites and were more difficult to peel.

We peeled the three eggs from each pan. There is no doubt about it — the white part of the hard-boiled eggs which were immediately put under cold water were absolutely tender.

We also found out that if the eggs were wellcracked and held under the cold water faucet and peeled while still slightly warm that the shell removed beautifully without peeling part of the egg white off.

ANOTHER THING we found was that the shell nearly always stuck to a fresh egg, whereas with cold storage and older eggs this did not happen.

So, test this method yourself. Next time you boil two eggs put one in each pot and see what luck you come out with. I am sure you will be happy.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Clean sanitary mops can always be at our fingertips by having several detachable cloth heads so that one may be washed each week.

After washing and spinning them dry in the washing machine, lay all the cloth heads on a newspaper and sprinkle with a good polish. (I punch a hole in the cap of my furniture polish bottle with a nail.) I then roll them up tightly in the newspaper so as to distribute the oil among the cotton threads.

Later I hang them out-of-doors to dry thoroughly. This leaves no oily streaks on my floors and picks up all the dust.

DEAR HELOISE: For the frayed ends on kids' shoestrings... take some cellophane tape and wind a piece tightly around the end of the frayed shoestring and twist it. It works like magic! Threa's every time.

TRUDY B.

DEAR HELOISE: Once in a while you will have no nail polish remover in the house. Did you know that you can apply another coat of nail polish, leave it for a few seconds and wipe it with a piece of cotton or tissue and the nail polish will come off? Sure saves scraping and peeling the nails, eh?

LINDA

DEAR HELOISE: I dry my throw rugs on the grass on a hot, sunny day. This prevents pin marks and they dry nice and evenly. They dry from both sides this way because the blades of the grass let air underneath the backing of the carpet.

CAROLYN WILSON. DEAR HELOISE: When I fry chicken livers I simply score them gently with a knife two or three times... crosswise. This keeps the grease from popping.

DOROTHY COLLINS.

$3,545 On Hand For Restoration Of Gaston's Mill

LISBON — A total of $3,545 has been collected so far for the restoration of Gaston's grist mill on Beaver Creek, according to a report made at the meeting of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council, held Thursday evening in the county extension offices. They need $6,000 to get the mill completed.

The group cleaned up the mill last Saturday in preparation of getting the repairs started. It also decided to ask the Ohio Division of Parks to make additional camping sites along the creek in Beaver Creek State Park.

State Rep. Clarence Wetzel attended last night's meeting and reported on progress being made in legislative hearings, and a representative from Beaver, Pa., was also present.

Final plans for the tour of the park Saturday were completed. They expect approximately 50 persons to join the inspection trip. There were 23 members at last night's meeting.

W. L. MacLean, Wellsville; Rev. John N. Mostoller, Alwyn C. Purinton Jr., J. W. Schoolnic, Malcolm Thompson, East Liverpool; Mrs. Walter Miller, Columbiana; Mrs. Dale Schoeni, North Georgetown; Richard T. Speidel and Mrs. Paul Young, Hanoverton.

Directors whose terms expire in 1965 are: Rev. Bruce Davis and Mrs. Arlene Schottant, Wellsville; Mrs. Carl Field, Salem; Leo C. Lawrence, Miss Nell Robinson, East Liverpool; Mrs. James Degnan and Mrs. Arthur Spatholt, Leetonia; Mrs. Roy Guy and Mark Klingensmith, Columbiana; Atty. Lafferty and McKenzie, Lisbon; Mrs. Frank Solak, Salineville, and James Vocature, East Palestine.

Addressing the group, Dr. Robert H. Browning, medical director of the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital in Columbus, said:

"Medical research proves that heavy smokers die younger and are more susceptible to cancer and heart ailments than non-smokers. Exhaustive studies of thousands of smokers and non-smokers offer conclusive proof of the health risks assumed by the smoker."

Dr. Browning called cigarette filters a "gimmick," and said studies show the tar and nicotine content of filter cigarettes may be higher than that of regular cigarettes. The early filters proved effective in cutting down tar, but also cut down on taste, he said, adding that the industry responded by using stronger tobacco which provides more nicotine and tar, despite the filter.

Dr. Browning noted that many nations are undertaking educational programs to alert citizens to the dangers of smoking. He said such programs are unlikely in this country, because of (1) the high proportion of adult smoking (2) the power of the tobacco industry, and (3) the huge taxes the industry pays $2,600,000,000 in federal, state and local taxes.

Dr. Browning said various studies show proper education means can reduce smoking by juveniles. When boys and girls are informed of the risks involved, their use of tobacco is reduced, he said, adding that smoking among juveniles is higher in homes where both parents smoke.

Following Dr. Browning's presentation, four high school students presented their view in juvenile smoking. Serving on the panel were Miss Pamela Field, Salem; Miss Penny White, Columbiana; William Russell, Union, and Adris Balpulis, Southern Local.

The treasurer's report showed the association spent $23,868.05 in conducting its program last year.

This year's Christmas seal campaign totaled $28,184. Columbiana County raised 26.04 cents per capita and was awarded a blue ribbon for the 16th consecutive year.

Miss Lillian R. Schroeder of Salem has served as the executive director for the past 20 years.

Orioles Move Into First Place, Blank Senators 6-0

Cardinals Beat Chicago 1-0
Cincy Shuts Out Milwaukee Braves

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
On the strength of his first night on the job, Gil Hodges appears to be in no danger of having to leave the country. Hodges, moving from cellar to cellar, took over as manager of the last place Senators Thursday night, shifting from the New York Mets who occupy a similar position in the National League. Before the game, the appointment came up for discussion on Capitol Hill, where one congressman said if Hodges can do anything with the slumping Senators he will be just the man to take over the U.S. foreign aid program. Gil seems to be safe at home for a while. The Senators responded to new leadership by rolling over quietly before Robin Roberts and the Baltimore Orioles, 6-0, for their 11th loss in their last 12 games. Roberts led the Senators to two hits, both by shortstop Ed Brinkman, and didn't walk a man as he pitched his third straight complete victory. The 36-year-old right-hander lost his first four this season. The other two games on the slim baseball card also produced shutouts in the National League. The St. Louis Cardinals moved back into third place with a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs, and the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Milwaukee Braves 2-0. Ernie Broglio, the Cardinal ace, ran his record to 5-1 with a five-hitter. Lefty Dick Ellsworth, who allowed only four hits in seven innings, was the Cub victim. Catcher Gene Oliver's homer in the fifth accounted for the only run. Jim O'Toole won his seventh against three losses on a three-hitter against the Braves. Denny Lemaster, the loser, threw a four-hitter. The Reds scored in the fourth on an error and a pop double by Daryl Spencer. They added a run in the ninth on another error, a stolen base and a single by Ken Walters.

BUILDS HOME-MADE CAR—Dick Shea (lower photo) checks the 425 H. P. Chevrolet engine he installed in his home-made car. It required three years and $4,500 in parts and 3,500 manhours to complete the sleek racer (upper photo).

Project Takes Almost 3 Years To Complete

Salem's Dick Shea Builds Beautiful 'Fastback Coupe'

Dick Shea, formerly of Salem, has constructed a beautiful "fastback coupe" which he plans to race at the various drag strips in the area. A Cleveland architect, Shea has been interested in automobiles ever since he can remember. It took him almost three years of weekends, holidays and vacations to assemble the car. He said, "parts alone cost $4,500 and I put in about 3,500 man-hours to build the machine." Seven officials from the Detroit General Motors office were in Salem Tuesday to look at the automobile, and took 150 pictures of it. The car weighs 2,400 pounds and is powered by a 1963 Chevrolet 425 horsepower, 409 cubic inch engine. The body is made of fiberglass. ALL OF THE homemade fiberglass parts were made in plaster casts which were made from wood molds. All inner fender panels and trunk floor are of aluminum and fiberglass. Shea started to build the car in September of 1960 in a garage at his parents house on Southeast Boulevard, and finished only a week ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shea. So far, Shea is just testing the car. At the Quaker City Strip he hit a speed of 100 miles an hour recently. "It has excellent handling characteristics," says Shea who is a member of the Corvette Club. THE AUTOMOBILE is registered at the county courthouse and was titled by the Salem AAA as a 1963 assembled "home-made fastback coupe." Shea's wife, Jean, has also been thrilled by the car's over-all performance, and says she can't get over how easy the machine is to handle. She has driven the car during some of the test trials at the Salem strip. Dick is an architect for the Author E. Rowe and Associates firm in Cleveland. The Sheas, have one son and reside at 17703 Libby Road, Maple Heights. He is a graduate of Salem High School and attended Ohio State University.

Panzott Tosses 2nd One-Hitter of Season
Merchants, Moose, Stepanic's Post City Softball Victories

Bill Panzott tossed his second straight one-hitter and his teammates, the Salem Merchants 3-0 gave him solid support while blanking Parker's Chevrolet in City League Softball action at Kelley Field Thursday night. Panzott gave up only one hit to the same Parkers' aggregation to open the campaign. In other contest last night Moose rolled to its third straight, knocking off Bliss 6-2, and Stepanic's duped Old Dutch 6-1. The Merchants pushed to a 2-0 lead in the initial inning on a walk and singles by Dawson, Alek and Crookston. Sweeteye collected the losers' only hit when he singled in the third. Dawson had three hits to pace the Merchants. J. Foreman, who had a perfect day at the plate with three hits, scored a run in the winners' fourth-run fourth. Shuster tripled to drive in two of the markers during the rally. Stefane scored both of Bliss' runs. S. O'Day was the winning pitcher. Fife was the losing hurler. Stepanic's picked up three runs in the fifth on a single, double by Jackson and triples by Roach and Drakulich. Stittie clouted a home run for Old Dutch in the fifth frame. Stoffer was the losing hurler. Stonemetz was the winning pitcher. The Knox Township Sportsmen Club will sponsor a "sporting day" Sunday at the club's grounds in North Georgetown. There will be archery, trap-shooting and target shooting, with proceeds going toward the purchase of 2,500 pine trees and 100 pheasants the club purchased recently.

State Finals Begin Today at Columbus

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Balls of all kinds—golf, tennis, base and lead—were flying today as Ohio's high school athletes opened combat for the state four-sport spring championships. More than 1,000 youngsters, survivors of some 35,000 who participated in district qualifiers, were on hand at Ohio State's athletic plant for the two-day carnival. Up for decision were the 56th annual track-field titles, the 36th annual baseball crowns, the 37th annual golf championships and the 44th annual tennis laurels. Competition in all sports started today. The finals are scheduled Saturday. Four Class A baseball teams had semi-final play scheduled at 10 a.m. with Spencerville meeting Powhatan and Dublin going against New Paris. The winners meet at 11 a.m. Saturday for the title won a year ago by Van Wert Lincolnview. The Class AA baseballers had a 1:30 p.m. semi-final date with Euclid opposing Steubenville and Cincinnati Sycamore playing Lima Senior. The victors clash at 11 a.m. Saturday for the title surrendered by North Bend Taylor. Three finals, the Class AA discus and the Class A shot put and pole vault, along with a host of preliminaries, were scheduled today in track, with all other finals Saturday. Each class has 14 events, 9 track and 5 field, as they go after the championships won last year by Cleveland Col-linwood in Class AA and Newton Falls Braceville in Class A. Alex Antonio of Hubbard is back to defend his individual golf crown, and Ashland goes after the four-man team title for the second straight year. The 36-hole two-day race over the university's long scarlet course has about 120 entrants. Two Mansfields will defend the tennis titles. Mansfield High's Tygers took the doubles crown a year ago, and Tom Mansfield of Upper Arlington won the singles.

Mets Get Piersall From Senators; Pirates Trade Skinner for Lynch

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
It wasn't an even exchange, but the New York Mets got Jimmy Piersall and the Washington Senators wound up with John F. Kennedy. Completing a quick doubleplay—without a fumble—the Senators fired the controversial Piersall over to the Mets Thursday in what appeared to be the conclusion of the deal in which Gil Hodges took over as Washington manager. Hodges, of course, lost a ball-player before he even got started with his new club, but the Senators gave him three in return by latching onto pitcher Pete Burnside, outfielder Barry Shetrone and an infielder name of John F. Kennedy. In another trade, Pittsburgh acquired Jerry Lynch, pinch hitter deluxe with the home run touch, from Cincinnati in a straight player deal that sent outfielder Bob Skinner to the Reds. The Kansas City Athletics shipped outfielders Manny Jimenez, who hit .301 as a rookie last year and Jose Tartabull to Portland while elevating Hector Martinez and John Wojcik from their Pacific Coast League farm club. Piersall figures to be a fixture in the Mets' center field and fits Manager Casey Stengel's description of "my type of player." Piersall expressed little surprise at the deal. "I've been in baseball 16 years. You never know what's going to happen," he said. "I'm happy to go play for Stengel. He was my biggest booster when I was a rookie. He made the compliments on my fielding that caused people to begin to notice me." To get Piersall, the Mets also sent along a bundle of cash and will ship a player to be named later to the Senators. After completing the Piersall deal the Senators optioned pitcher Art Quirk, called up Shetrone from their Columbus team in the International League, signed free agent Burnside and elevated Kennedy, a youngster with the famous name who last year broke in by hitting a homer in his first at-bat in the majors. The Lynch-Skinner transaction likely will have considerable bearing on the pennant races. The Pirates pickup a slugger in Lynch and the Reds round out a top outfield with Skinner joining Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson.

Ailes, Scott's, Hunt's Also Triumph

CIO 1538 Rolls To 24-7 Win In Junior Baseball Loop Tilt

In the top scoring spree of the season, CIO 1538 defeated Cherry Hill 24-7 in a Salem Junior Baseball Class H League contest at Buckeye Field Thursday. Scott's Sports rallied for five runs in the fifth and went on to trim Knights of Columbus 8-6 in another G division tilt, at Centennial South. In Class H action Ailes Insurance outslugged Moose Lodge 19-11 at Reilly Field, and Hunt's Industrial Union clipped UCT 13-8 at Memorial West. In Wednesday's Class G contests National Dry Cleaners trimmed Lions Club 6-3, and Petruci's beat Eagles 14-3, while in Class H Merchants Vending decided Jaycees 11-4, and Dairy Isle knocked off Independent Hose 17-2. CIO collected only seven hits yesterday, but scored runs in every inning, picking up eight markers in the second session. Thirteen batters went to the plate. Jeff Martin had three of CIO 1538's hits, including two doubles. Terry Frazier was the winning hurler. John Mehno collected both of Cherry Hill's hits. Frazier, Mercer and Martin struck out 15 of the losers' batters. Ailes Insurance scored in every inning except the fifth. The winners tallied 16 of their runs in the first four frames. Jerry Morrison led Ailes with two hits. Charles Baker had a perfect day at the plate with four hits for the Moose. Bill Daley hit a home run. Scott's Sports, trailing 4-2 in the fifth, scored five runs on a walk, two errors and singles by winning pitcher Ken Stein, Tom Herron, Tim Baillie and Bill Kellner. Gary Eyster and Jim Whinnery collected two hits each for Knights of Columbus. Lantz was the losing hurler. Hunts Union scored four runs in the first and third innings, and added three for insurance in the fourth. Ken Kenst paced the winners with a home run and a single. Jay Youtz hit two doubles to spark UCT. The losers tallied six markers in the fourth frame. Fight Results

Anywhere performance gets an open test...

RIVERSIDE, CALIF. A '63 Super Torque Ford crossed the finish line first in a field of 40 cars.

DAYTONA, FLA. In the toughest 500-mile event of the season, Fords ran 1-2-3-4-5.

ATLANTA, GA. Score another big win for Ford in open competition—the Atlanta "500."

FORD'S THE TOTAL PERFORMANCE CHAMP!

Ford's the one to watch this year! The record proves today's great Super Torque Ford is certain to be a better car for the kind of driving you do every day! A car's weaknesses show up fast in open, competitive road and track events. At Daytona, more than half the 50 cars starting never finished. Mechanical failure forced them to quit. But Ford proved it takes more than speed and acceleration to win at Daytona—or anywhere else. It takes durability, too. It takes a steering system that can stand the steady forces of almost continuous left turns. Dependable brakes. A suspension system designed to keep all four wheels firmly on the road. Dependable ignition. It takes total performance. And Ford delivers. See your Ford Dealer for proof.

Still More Tragic, The Part That Can't Be Shown!

Bad enough, to see your accident smashed car wind up on a junk heap. But the grimmest part of the picture doesn't show here. Behind these wrecks lies a tragic toll . . . in the form of injury, financial loss . . . and in many cases even death. With vacation time traffic jamming highways, now is the time for extra care . . . And the time for an honest look at your auto insurance. Admitted, insurance will never replace careful driving habits but it will help ease financial burdens in case of an accident. Protect yourself completely by driving with care and insuring with Grange Mutual.
Don't let an accident hit you for a heavy loss.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

We are going to have a pony pulling contest out back some Sunday afternoon after Memorial Day. The Karts run out here every Sunday afternoon now, after Memorial Day they will run at night under the lights.

I will let you know the date of this pony pulling contest as soon as I find out for sure.

We had a horse pulling contest out back late last fall. Some people are still talking about it.

Some people think this is being cruel to animals but they really like it. They like to show off just like people.

Warning Issued Against Some Social Security Books

"Most writers of privately published books and pamphlets about social security make sure that their materials are technically accurate and up-to-date. But," said

Walter I. Kimbro, social security district manager, "a few private publications now in circulation contain information which could mislead a person who relied upon it."

As an example, Kimbro cited a book which is being widely publicized throughout the country, in magazine and newspaper advertisements, on the radio, and through the mail, as containing exclusive information and tips on "how to get twice as much social security."

Actually, the book does not tell the reader anything basic about the social security law that he would not find in the free booklets available at his social security office.

However, the book does contain advice that if followed, Kimbro said, might place a person in a worse, rather than a better, financial position. And following some of the advice might result in extensive investigation by the Social Security Administration and thus delay, rather than speed up, the payment of a claim for social security benefits.

A review revealed 184 errors of fact in just 122 pages of the text of this book.

"Responsible publishers of books about social security," Kimbro pointed out, "do not try to promote sales with advertising materials indicating that the information they offer is not available elsewhere. Nor do they state or imply that a person may lose money by not buying the book offered for sale."

Kimbro advises anyone who has a question as to the accuracy of a privately published book about social security to ask his social security office about it.

He emphasized that there are many reliable privately published books about social security and that the publishers of these books perform a service to the public in helping the Social Security Administration to inform people about
